Executive Principal - Mr A S Billings BA(Hons) PGCE MA NPQH | National Leader of Education

6 December 2017

Dear Parents/Carers

It is with very mixed emotions that I write to inform you that our Executive Principal, Tony Billings, has been successful in securing a position as Chief Executive Officer in a large Church School Multi Academy Trust and will be leaving his post as Executive Principal and Executive Director of the Holy Family of Nazareth Catholic Academy Trust, at Easter.

Mr Billings has completed over 11 years of distinguished service at All Hallows Catholic College and led the school through two successive Ofsted outstanding inspections and three outstanding denominational inspections. Under his leadership the College became an academy and founding member of our trust. The College is also a National Teaching School, providing training and development for school leaders and teachers and support for other schools in the Diocese.

Mr Billings is an 'old boy' of the school and he returned to lead the school back to success following a disappointing Ofsted in 2006. Mr Billings has said it has been an honour to lead the College and see All Hallows flourish as it does today. Mr Billings wants to thank all the students, teachers, support staff, governors and parents / carers who have worked together to make All Hallows a strong and successful school with a great future ahead.

The Governors and Academy Trust are now seeking to appoint the College's next Principal and Head of Teaching School and will be seeking someone who can build on the strong foundations laid by Mr Billings and help us to go from strength to strength in these difficult but exciting times for education. Mr Billings' shoes will be hard to fill but you can be assured that with hard work, determination and guidance from above, the governors will succeed in finding the right person to lead our thriving community in the years to come.

On behalf of the whole community I would like to congratulate Mr Billings and to express sincere thanks, gratitude and appreciation for his leadership. We wish him all the best in his new role which is a great opportunity for him to build on what he has achieved so far and also reflects his future potential as leader of a larger Multi Academy Trust elsewhere.

Yours sincerely

Jacqui Feely BA MSc LPSH
Chair of Governors
