Executive Principal - Mr A S Billings BA(Hons) PGCE MA NPQH | National Leader of Education

11 December 2017

Dear Parents/Carers

As you are already aware, Mr Billings will be leaving All Hallows Catholic College at Easter after eleven years of dedicated service.

I therefore write to inform you of the interim leadership arrangements that the Governing Body is putting in to place to ensure the continuance of high standards and maintain stability at All Hallows whilst we are seeking the right person to be our next Principal.

Mr Peter Nickson, who has been the day-to-day Head of School for the last three years, will become Acting Principal until the new Principal has been appointed. He will be assisted by, Mrs Michelle Garvey, in the role of Acting Deputy Principal. We are delighted that such experienced and well-respected members of our leadership team have agreed to take on these roles. The College is also very fortunate to have strong leadership at all levels and an exceptionally dedicated staff who we know will maintain the high standards that are so well embedded at All Hallows.

The Governors and the Trust have now started work in earnest to find the College's next Principal, and we are confident that the national profile and high standards at All Hallows will attract a good number of candidates. In the meantime, Mr Billings is here until Easter and in his usual fashion, he will be giving every attention to every detail as he prepares to hand over to the next Principal.

We ask that you keep the College, Governors and Staff in your thoughts and prayers as we move forward in the next stage of our journey at All Hallows; a journey which seeks to be true to the mission statement 'Aspire not to have more but to be more' and the Catholic values upon which the College is founded.

Thank you for your continuing support.

Kind regards and with every blessing for Advent and Christmas.

Yours sincerely
